List of embedded Bench-marks transferred to the care of the Railway or Civil Authorities 174

INTRODUCTION.

The heights given in the following tables are referred to the mean level of the sea, vide note, at the end of this Introduction, on the corrections which have been applied to the heights in dispersing the closing errors.

The lines of levels from Vizagapatam to Allahabad and from Katni to Sironj, are divided into six sections, viz :—

- (I). Section Vizagapatam to Vizianagram, 40 miles, levelled in season 1891-95.
- (II). Section Vizianagram to Raipur, 318 miles, levelled in seasons 1895-96-97.
- (III). Section Raipur to Biláspur, 69 miles, levelled in season 1891-92.
- (IV). Section Biláspur to Katni, 197 miles, levelled in season 1896-97.
- (V). Section Katni to Allahabad, 171 miles, levelled in season 1898-99.
- (VI). Section Katni to Sironj, 199 miles, levelled in season 1898-99.

The embedded bench-marks laid down by the Levelling Party in the Operations are noted in the tables as $\begin{smallmatrix} \text{G.T.S.} \\ \square \\ \text{B.M.} \end{smallmatrix}$ or $\begin{smallmatrix} \text{G.T.S.} \\ \text{B.M.} \end{smallmatrix}$ and have been constructed as follows :—

A stone of the dimensions shown in figures 1 and 2 has been built into a block of masonry, from 3 to 4 feet cube, with the upper surface of the stone flush with the upper surface of the masonry, which is about 6 inches below the ground level, and the whole block is covered with earth. These embedded bench-marks have, as a rule, been laid down in the vicinity of Railway Stations, Agency Bungalows, Travellers' Bungalows, Police Stations and Temples; and to mark the spot the letters B.M. have been cut some-the building close to the benchmark, or on a stone slab embedded upright in masonry and adjoining the masonry block, so that identification is unmistakable. Certain bench-marks have been embedded in the verandahs of Railway Stations and Bungalows, with the top surface of the stone flush with the floor of the verandah.

The staff was placed vertically in the small sunken square cut a quarter of an inch deep at the centre of the upper face of the stone: the square has a smooth surface, and is large enough to hold the foot of any levelling staff.

The heights of numerous other bench-marks, called inscribed bench-marks, have also been determined: these are points on parapets and abutments of Railway bridges and culverts, on copings of Railway station platforms and semaphores, on rocks in situ, on milestones and boundary pillars, on parapets and guard-stones of road bridges and culverts and on steps of buildings and wells. Besides these the level of the rails at Railway stations and the heights of several Public Works Department and Railway bench-marks have been determined. The inscribed bench-marks have the letters G.T.S. B.M., or simply B.M. and a small circle well cut into the top surface of the stone; the positions of the levelling staff being invariably within the circle.

Each embedded bench-mark is transferred for safe custody to the care of responsible Railway or Civil authorities, as the case may be. The transfer papers are in triplicate: one copy is kept for record in the office of the Tidal and Levelling Party, the second has been retained by the responsible Railway or Civil authorities; and the third by the officer immediately entrusted with the actual care of the bench-mark. Lists of the embedded bench-marks, with the names of the officers to whose custody they have been transferred, are given at the end of the pamphlet.

The observations were taken during the field seasons 1891-92, 1894-95-96-97 and 1898-99 by Mr. J. Bond, Extra Assistant Superintendent, using the 21-inch Standard Level by Troughton and Simms, known in the Survey of India as Cylindrical Level No. 4. He was assisted by the late Surveyor Nar Sing Das, on the section Raipur to Biláspur, season 1891-92; by Surveyor Vinayek Narayan on the sections Vizagapatam to Vizianagram, season 1891-95; Vizianagram to Raipur (from Potanghi to Raipur) season 1895-96 and Biláspur to Katni season 1896-97; by Sub-Surveyor Balwant Atma Ram on portion of the section, Vizianagram to Raipur (from Vizianagram to Potanghi) season 1896-97 and by Mr. J. P. Barker, Extra Assistant Superintendent and by Munshi Syed Zille Hasnain, Sub-Assistant Superintendent, on the sections Katni to Allahabad and Katni to Sironj, season 1898-99; all of whom used 21-inch Standard Level by Troughton and Simms, known as Cylindrical Level No. 3.

The Levelling staves used were of the G. T. Survey pattern, graduated on both faces and otherwise agreeing with the description given of them in Colonel Walker's Memoranda on Levelling Operations published in the Appendix to the Manual of Surveying for India, Third Edition, (Thacker, Spink and Co., Calcutta, 1875). The staves were compared with a portable steel bar—a copy of the standard 10-foot Bar, the unit of length of the Indian Survey—at the beginning, middle and end of each season's Levelling Operations. The proper corrections have been applied to the heights on account of the differences of the staves from the standard unit.

The levelling was carried on independently by two observers working at a convenient distance apart with different instruments and staves, but on the same pins; and at each station, as a rule, two sets of observations, agreeing within 0·006 of a foot, had to be obtained by the forward leveller, and a similar pair of equal agreement, by the second leveller; and the mean values obtained by both had also to agree within 0·006 of a foot. The rigorous method of procedure, given in Colonel Walker's Memoranda on Levelling Operations, was invariably adopted on the main lines, but in short branch lines to G. T. Survey Hill Stations, at such places where the hill slopes were too steep for rigorous spirit-levelling, a horizontal levelling staff carrying a spirit-level was employed, one end of the staff resting on a peg and the other read against an upright levelling staff standing on another peg. The accuracy of this method (certain precautions, such as reversing the level, being observed) has been rigorously tested and found sufficient for determining heights to within an inch, at all distances over which this method has been adopted. The heights so determined are, however, given to the nearest foot only.

(I). Section Vizagapatam to Vizianagram. This section is the latter portion of section Cuttack to Vizagapatam of Spirit-Levelled Heights No. 9, Orissa and the Northern Circars, season 1894-95, published in 1896. It emanated from the bench-mark of reference C. of the Vizagapatam Tidal Station, proceeded along the East Coast Railway and closed on the bench-mark embedded at Vizianagram Railway Station. The length of this section is 40 miles, exclusive of 15 miles of branch lines levelled in season 1896-97 to connect the north and south ends of the Vizagapatam base-line and Bor G. T. Survey station, a principal station of the East Coast Series.

(II). Section Vizianagram to Raipur. This section emanated from the embedded bench-mark at Vizianagram Railway Station (No. 314 of Section Cuttack to Vizagapatam of Spirit-Levelled Heights No. 9, Orissa and the Northern Circars, season 1894-95, published in 1896) and proceeded along the main road to Sâlûrn and along the Itikivalasa-Jeypore road, viâ Korâput and the Jubilee ghât to Jeypore; thence along the Agency road viâ Naurangapur and Umankot to the frontier of the Central Provinces; thence along the cart-track viâ Borai, Sihâwa, Gatâsili, Dokâl and Kukrel and across the Mahânadi river at Achota ferry to Dhamtari; and finally along the new main road viâ Kurûd, Abhanpur and Mâna to Raipur; and closed on the bench-mark embedded at Raipur Railway Station (No. 222 of Section Nâgpur to Bilâspur of Spirit-Levelled Heights No. 7, Bombay Presidency, Hyderabad Assigned Districts and Central Provinces, Revised Edition, 1896). Thus a connection with the Spirit-levelling from Bombay to False Point was effected. The length of this section is 318 miles, exclusive of 20 miles of branch lines to connect the G. T. Survey stations of Korâput h.s., Sirsi H.S., Hîrâpur H.S., and Hâthbena H.S. of the Bilâspur Meridional Series.

(III). Section Raipur to Bilâspur. This section is the latter portion of section Nâgpur to Bilâspur of Spirit-Levelled Heights No. 7, Bombay Presidency, Hyderabad Assigned Districts and Central Provinces, Revised Edition, 1896 and was levelled in season 1891-92. It emanated from the embedded bench-mark at Raipur Railway Station (No. 222 of Section Nâgpur to Bilâspur of Spirit-Levelled Heights No. 7, Bombay Presidency, Hyderabad Assigned Districts and Central Provinces, Revised Edition, 1896), proceeded along the main line of the Bengal-Nâgpur Railway and closed on the bench-mark embedded at Bilâspur Railway Station (No. 300 of Section Nágpur to Biláspur of Spirit-Levelled Heights No. 7, Bombay Presidency, Hyderabad Assigned Districts and Central Provinces, Revised Edition, 1896). The length of this section is 69 miles, exclusive of a branch line of $3\frac{1}{2}$ miles to connect Biláspur G. T. Survey secondary station and Biláspur Civil station. Bodri G. T. Survey Tower station, a principal station of the Biláspur Meridional Series, was also connected on the main line of levels.

(IV). Section Biláspur to Katni. This section emanated from the embedded bench-mark at Biláspur Railway Station (No. 300 of Section Nágpur to Biláspur of Spirit-Levelled Heights No. 7, Bombay Presidency, Hyderabad Assigned Districts and Central Provinces, Revised Edition, 1896), proceeded along the Katni branch-line of the Bengal-Nágpur railway and closed on the embedded bench-mark No. 270 at Murwára (Katni) Travellers' Bungalow. The length of this section is 197 miles, exclusive of 16 miles of branch lines to connect the G. T. Survey principal stations of Dalea H.S. and Bhalua H.S. of the Biláspur Meridional Series and the bench-marks at Umaria colliery.

(V). Section Katni to Allahabad. This section emanated from the inscribed bench-mark at Katni Railway Station (No. 268 of Section Biláspur to Katni); proceeded along the main road viâ Rewah to Allahabad; and closed on two bench-marks in Allahabad Fort (vide Heights in N.W.P. and Bengal to May 1866, published in 1866, Section Cawnpore to Allahabad, page 21). The length of this section is 162 miles, exclusive of 11 miles of branch lines to connect the G. T. Survey principal stations of Amúa H.S. of the Calcutta Longitudinal, Mailbar H.S. of the Amúa Meridional and Burwa H.S. of the Karára Meridional Series.

(VI). Section Katni to Sironj. This section emanated from the inscribed bench-mark at Katni Railway Station (No. 268 of Section Biláspur to Katni); proceeded along the Indian Midland Railway viâ Bina to Kethora Railway Station; thence along the main road viâ Kurwai to Sironj Base-Line and closed on the Sironj Base-Line, N.E. End G. T. Survey Station (No. 56 of Series III, Dewás to Sironj, of Spirit-Levelled Heights No. 4, Bombay Presidency and Central India Agency, Seasons 1877-78, 1881-82-83-84). The length of this section is 199 miles, exclusive of 6 miles of branch lines to connect the G. T. Survey principal stations of Salaia H.S., Saugor H.S. and Bhaoráa H.S. of the Calcutta Longitudinal Series.

In the tables the first column headed "No. in Section" contains the consecutive numbers of the bench-marks, the initial bench-mark from which the section emanated being numbered 1. The fractional numbers found in the same column indicate bench-marks of a branch line emanating from the bench-mark whose number is given in the denominator, the numerator being the sectional number or letter of the bench-mark in the branch line. Thus $\frac{14}{58}$ indicates the fourteenth bench-mark of the branch line emanating from bench-mark No. 58 of the main line and $\frac{A}{58}$ indicates the first bench-mark of a second branch line emanating from the same bench-mark.

In the descriptions of the bench-marks, the distances in chains are in terms of Gunter's chain of 66 feet.

The orthography of Indian proper names and words is based on the Official Lists of Madras, the Central Provinces and U. P. of Agra and Oudh, published under the orders of Government, except that the long é is unaccented as in all previous publications of this series, but the short e is shown thus é: the same remarks apply to o. Final vowels and those in well-known terminals are unaccented.

As a general rule the pronunciations of the vowels are as follows:—a has a variable sound as in woman, and as u in bud; á as in art; i as in bit; í as in ravine; u as in bull; ú as in rural; o as in note; ó as in cot; e as a in say; ě as in bet; au as ou in cloud; ai as i in ride.

NOTE.

NOTE ON THE CORRECTIONS WHICH HAVE BEEN APPLIED TO THE HEIGHTS OF BENCH-MARKS IN THIS PAMPHLET, IN DISPERSING THE CLOSING ERRORS.

The values of height above mean sea level employed in the calculation are:—

- 190·804 feet — the height of the bench-mark embedded at Vizianagram Railway Station. This is bench-mark No. 314 of Section Cuttack to Vizagapatam of Spirit-Levelled Heights No. 9, Orissa and the Northern Circars, Season 1894-95, published in 1896.
- 958·770 „ — the height of the bench-mark embedded at Raipur Railway Station. This is bench-mark No. 222 of Section Nágpur to Biláspur of Spirit-Levelled Heights No. 7, Bombay Presidency, Hyderabad Assigned Districts and Central Provinces, Revised Edition, 1896.
- 888·348 „ — the height of the bench-mark embedded at Biláspur Railway Station. This is bench-mark No. 300 of Section Nágpur to Biláspur of Spirit-Levelled Heights No. 7, Bombay Presidency, Hyderabad Assigned Districts and Central Provinces, Revised Edition, 1896.
- 298·88 „ — the height of the plinth of the sentry box in Allahabad Fort given in Section Cawnpore to Allahabad page (21) of Tables of Heights in N.W. Provinces and Bengal, to May 1865, published in 1866.
- 298·72 „ — the height of G. T. Station Bench-mark embedded in Allahabad Fort given in Section Cawnpore to Allahabad page (21) of Tables of Heights in N.W. Provinces and Bengal, to May 1865, published in 1866.
- 1479·017 „ — the height of Sironj Base-Line, N.E. End (upper mark), a principal station of G. T. Survey. This is No. 56 of Series III, Dewás to Sironj, of Spirit-Levelled Heights No. 4, Bombay Presidency and Central India Agency, Seasons 1877-78, 1881-82-83-84, published in 1885.

THE CORRECTIONS WHICH HAVE BEEN APPLIED TO THE SEVERAL SECTIONS ARE AS FOLLOWS:—

1. Vizagapatam to Vizianagram—Except a few Branch lines to G. T. Survey stations, all the Bench-marks are reprints from Section Cuttack to Vizagapatam of Spirit-Levelled Heights No. 9, Orissa and the Northern Circars, Season 1894-95, published in 1896.
2. Vizianagram to Raipur—The error generated in this section, namely, +0·041 of a foot, was dispersed over 317·8 miles in direct proportion to the distance from Vizianagram.
3. Raipur to Biláspur—All the Bench-marks of this Section are identical with those given on pages 95-110 Section Nágpur to Biláspur of Spirit-Levelled Heights No. 7, Bombay Presidency, Revised Edition, 1896.
4. Biláspur to Katni—A most probable value of height of Katni Railway Station (E. I. Ry.) was found by taking the mean of three values obtained by starting from the fixed values of heights of Biláspur, Allahabad and Sironj to Katni. This way the height of Katni was found to be 1254·083 feet.

The error generated in this section, namely, -0·941 of a foot, was dispersed over 196·6 miles in direct proportion to the distance from Biláspur.
5. Katni to Allahabad—The error generated in this section, namely, -0·603 of a foot, was dispersed over 161·5 miles in direct proportion to the distance from Katni.
6. Katni to Sironj—The error generated in this section, namely, -0·337 of a foot, was dispersed over 194·5 miles in direct proportion to the distance from Katni.

1 33	1.7*	VIZAGAPATAM BASE-LINE SOUTH END G. T. SURVEY STATION, lat. $17^{\circ} 55' 38''$, long. $83^{\circ} 14' 9''$. This is the southern extremity of the base-line measured in 1862-63, and a principal station of the East Coast Series, situated on the northern slope of the rocky ridge running E. and W. between Gumrukūnda and Nandimetta; about 0.3 of a mile W.S.W. (and in the lands) of Ballighātam, in the Srungavarapukota taluk of the Vizagapatam district; and 3 miles N. of Kottavalasa Railway Station. It was built in the first instance as a simple platform station, with 3 circular mark-stones each 38 inches in diameter and 6 inches thick, placed vertically over each other, the lowest stone resting on hard clay 2 feet below the surface of the ground, with a 4-inch layer of masonry between the bottom and middle stones and a 9-inch layer between the middle and top stones. Subsequently a wall of out-stone masonry 1.5 feet thick and forming an enclosure of 5 feet 10 inches square was built round the mark-stones to the depth of 4 feet below the ground for the better protection of the marks and to serve as a foundation for the dome erected over the station. The marks as usual is represented by a dot on silver in a brass plug let into the stone. Each of the three stones has this mark, the two upper ones being carefully plumbed over the lowest. The uppermost mark is the one to which the measurement was referred. A pyramidal stone about 20 inches square by 15 inches high, hollowed out at the base, is placed as a cap over the mark, and a out-stone masonry dome rises to the height of about 12 feet over the station. The dome is without any opening so as to prevent access to the marks. Note.—When visited by the Levelling Party the roof of the domed building was found broken open and stones and rubbish had been thrown into the building completely covering the pyramidal stone cap which protects the uppermost mark. The station marks were found intact and on the completion of the work the building was repaired and built up as before without any opening to prevent access to the marks.	311.56	On the uppermost mark.

(and in the lands) of Rāmbhadrāpuram-Agrahāram, in the Brūngavarapēkota tāluk of the Vizagapatam district: it is 3 miles W. of Alamanda Railway Station and nearly 2 miles N.W. of Alamanda Auxiliary Hill Station of the base-line verifactory minor triangulation. The foundation of the station is a solid mass of rubble masonry 9 feet square, and 4 feet deep below the ground level, resting on a hard bed of gravel. In the foundation, but isolated from it by an annulus, there are 3 circular mark-stones, 38 inches in diameter by 6 inches thick, the lowermost resting about 2 feet from the bottom, and the two others in order vertically, at intervals of 3 inches apart. Above the ground level there is a platform of cut-stone masonry, 8 feet square and 1 foot high reaching to the edge of the annulus; there is also a fourth mark-stone resting over the others and separated from the nearest by a 6-inch layer of masonry. In the lowest mark-stone a dot surrounded by a circle has been engraved on the stone, on the others the mark is the usual dot on silver in a brass plug 1 inch square by 2 inches deep let into the stone. The three upper marks were carefully plumbed over the lowest one. A pyramidal stone cap about 20 inches square by 16 inches high hollowed out at the base, protects the uppermost mark, and a cut-stone masonry dome rises to the height of about 12 feet over the station. The dome is without any opening so as to prevent access to the marks. 70	62.5	BODRI G. T. SURVEY TOWER STATION, lat. $22^{\circ} 0' 22''$, long. $82^{\circ} 8' 51''$. This is a principal station of the Biláspur Meridional Series, and is situated on the highest part of some rising ground, about $\frac{1}{2}$ mile S.W. of Bhátápára village, and within the lands of the village of Bodri: purgana Ratanpur, district Biláspur of the Central Provinces. The station consists of a tower of sun-dried bricks enclosing a perforated pillar of masonry, 20.53 feet in height, and has a mark in the ground floor and another 1.17 feet below. The azimuths and perambulated distances of the circumjacent villages are:—Ráungi $38^{\circ} 53'$, miles 1.36; Bodri $207^{\circ} 8'$, miles 1.21; and Chakarbháta $284^{\circ} 8'$, miles 1.19. Note. —When visited by the Levelling Party, the tower of sun-dried bricks had crumbled away forming a mound of earth about 10 feet in height enclosing the pillar: a part of the exposed portion of the masonry on the W. side had fallen away, also portion of the top of the circular pillar. The top surface of the masonry pillar (there being no upper mark-stone)—to which the height in the next column refers—was found by direct measurement to be 15.04 feet above a brick at the W. foot of the tower, on which the levelling staff rested.	946*	This height refers to the top surface of the pillar.

$\frac{7}{161}$	118.4	SAUGOR (SĀGAR) G. T. SURVEY STATION, lat. $23^{\circ} 49' 48''$, long. $78^{\circ} 48' 45''$. This is a principal station of the Calcutta Longitudinal Series—observed at in 1826 and 1864—and is situated on the summit of Bhunria hill, about $\frac{1}{2}$ a mile due E. of Saugor jail and about $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles S.E. of the Railway Station. The old mint (now the tahsildār's Kachahri), the Mission School and Police Lines lie at the foot of the hill on the W. side, and the road to Behli passes over its S.W. spur, about 250 yards S. of the station. The station consists of a solid pillar 2 feet high, having two marks. The mark-stones laid down in 1826, when visited in 1864, were found untampered with, the upper being accurately plumbed over the lower, and the former was adopted for the new station. Note. —The station, when visited by the Levelling Party, was found protected by a circular masonry pillar 2 feet high with an aperture over the mark for the reception of a pole and brush. The covering was removed to give access to the upper mark-stone, which was found loose and about 1 foot below the present level of the platform, and on the completion of the observations it was rebuilt.	2035.82	This height refers to the upper mark-stone.
